Eventing originated as a training program to keep Calvary officers and their horses fit for duty by providing the ultimate test of "war horse" and "warrior". An Olympic sport since 1912, Eventing's diversity and intensity are unparalleled in equestrian sports and it is often called the most exciting of equestrian competitions, contested by both men and women on an equal playing field.

Eventing: An equestrian triathlon, combining three phases of dressage, cross-country and show jumping. Dressage: The art of training a horse to maneuver in response to nearly imperceptible aids given by the rider's hands, seat, legs and body. Often described as dancing on a horse.

Cross Country: The endurance phase of Eventing, the cross country is a test to prove the speed, endurance, bravery and jumping ability of a horse as well as demonstrating rider knowledge of pace and ability to guide the horse.

Show Jumping: Show jumping tests the technical jumping skills of the horse and rider, including suppleness, obedience, fitness and athleticism and is generally held after the cross-country phase.

Gait: Describes a specific foot fall pattern or beat, i.e. walk, trot, canter

Refusal: The failure of a horse to jump a fence to which they are presented. This includes any stop in forward motion.

Run-out: When the horse quickly slides past or "ducks out" of a fence instead of jumping it, without stopping forward motion.
